

Donna M. Spear

Classrooms for the Future Coach and Technology Instructor

“Working to change the face of education by facilitating teachers to infuse the technology tools that students love, use, and embrace into their daily school activities and beyond, to connect learning, technology, and real world skills, and to produce students who are active, curious, creative, and reflective knowledge-seeking participants in the learning process with a clear vision of a global future.”

Experience and Education:

Milton Area High School Business/Technology Instructor, 25 years
Master’s Equivalency, granted 2005 (50 graduate credits in technology)
BS in Business Education Bloomsburg University, 1983

Web Presence:

Classroom Website: www.idspear.com
Classroom Blog: <http://spear.edublogs.org>
Classroom Wiki: <http://mhsroom228.wikispaces.com>
Webmaster of: www.christlutheranmpa.org
Social Bookmarking: <http://delicious/dspear>
Skype: donna.spear

Expertise:

MS Office 2007; WordPerfect; FrontPage; Internet Explorer; Windows Vista; Picasa; Moodle; iGoogle; Google Reader; Google Earth; delicious; wikispaces; blogger; edublogs; flickr; youtube; skype; twitter

Personal:

Age 47, happily married, two great daughters (12, 14), life-long learner, educational risk-taker, forward thinker

